

What if I am arrested or I am charged or suspected of a crime?

Anyone arrested, charged or suspected of a crime or criminal action, should take immediate action to seek options for their situation while their freedom is at stake!

Any criminal charge or charge of a suspicion of criminal activity can have a defendant fighting for his or her fundamental freedoms. My best legal advice is that a person charged or suspected or accused of a criminal act does not take a wait-and-see approach. This approach very well may jeopardize the outcome of your case. It is well known that the sooner a highly knowledgeable and experienced Criminal Defense Lawyer is brought into a criminal case or investigation, the better potential results for the client.

I have proven over and over again that according to the laws of our Constitution, a person is innocent until they are proven guilty- proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt by an impartial jury of peers. It is important to be pro-active and seek a consultation with an experienced attorney. Do not seek answers to questions about your rights and legal status from police officers and prosecutors.

Police officers and law enforcement individuals are not sworn to act in a defendant's best interest, Only an Attorney is sworn to act in a client's best interest in upholding Legal Laws. I have repeatedly demonstrated that in many many cases, the evidence against a person may not be enough to prove that they are guilty, beyond a reasonable doubt.
